

Pink + Green = Spring

By Mary Jo Matsumoto

The latest candy color in my Spring/Summer line of earrings is frosted yellow quartz that looks just dandy paired with pink and green. It is available in the bestselling 18k brushed gold starfish style--a slam dunk for celebrating spring! Available at MaryJoMatsumoto.com.

pump up your spring wardrobe. Necessitees can be found at Fred Segal Fun and www.necessiteesonline.com.

If you would like to drop a line in pink and green, then pick up the UK Flag pack created by Made By Girl. Jen Ramos, the creator of this fun eco-conscious paper goods line has plenty of happy and bright designs to chose from at www.MadeByGirl.com.

The petal pink soft and roomy Andrew Marc "Nicole" bag has my vote for being the sweetest spring delight. Fans of Andrew Marc's new bag line include Mischa Barton, Mena Suvari, Lauren Graham, Jessica Alba, (and me). Available at Saks 5th Avenue or AndrewMarc.com.

Don't forget to pamper yourself this spring with Ole Henriksen beauty products tailored just for your skin type. One of the perks, aside from clean glowing skin, is that the bright and cheerful packaging will look fab in your bathroom! I'm a fan of the African Red Tea Trio, which comes packaged in a hot pink box. The African Red Tea Mist will revitalize your skin with hydrating and anti-aging nutrients.

Wishing you the most wonderful pink and green spring!

Style expert and fashion/beauty journalist Mary Jo Matsumoto writes a style blog at www.trustyourstyle.com. She is debuting a new line of women's couture evening dresses and separates as well as expanding her successful handbag line to include a luxury selection. To view her beautiful designs please visit www.maryjomatsumoto.com.

Follow by smoothing on Express The Truth Wrinkle Crème and Visual Truth Eye Crème. Another great pick is the Invigorating Night Gel an exceptionally lightweight gel, created to work in synergy with your body's natural repair system. It comes in a bright green jar that will remind you that spring has sprung every time you use it. Ole Henriksen products are available at Sephora or at the website www.olehenriksen.com

There's nothing like pink and green to announce the arrival of spring! Wearing these colors makes me want to spend every day outside celebrating, so I thought I'd share some of the latest and most delectable pink and green "must haves" so you can get a pink and green jump start on the season.

Wouldn't you just love to dig through a pile of gorgeous bangles and slip on as many as your arm could fit? Sequin recently launched the jewelry collection for Badgley Mischka. This lovely wrist bling has graced the red carpet on celebs like Fergie at the 2007 Grammy Awards. Sequin bangles are currently found at major retailers like Henri Bendel, Nordstrom, Macy's, Bloomingdale's and small boutiques across the US.

If you'd like to see a green and rosy world, then these Balenciaga shades that come in pink and green, are the chicest choice around. I love their fresh take on a vintage style! Starting this month the Balenciaga Spring/Summer Sunwear collection will be distributed in Balenciaga boutiques worldwide, as well as select department stores, sunglass specialty stores including Solstice Sunglass Boutiques, and independent optical stores.

Didn't you know, spring starts inside your bag? Every time you reach in your pocketbook and pull out one of these "Pinwheel Pink" accessories by Vera Bradley, you'll feel happy. They're cheery, durable, and a great way to brighten up your daily routine. To view check-book cover, sunglasses and eyeglasses cases, and pencil/makeup bag, or find a store near you, go to www.VeraBradley.com.

I think you will really love everything by Necessitees--their cardigans, tees, camies and undies come in pink, green, and a rainbow of colors. The nice thing about this line is that it's made for women who want to look good but also keep bra straps and tummies covered--yet the pieces are still sexy and pretty. I can vouch that they're also practical and a good way to